HELPING CREATE OPPORTUNITIES FOR EMPLOYMENT

Catherine was an accomplished nurse who had been in the field for over 30 years. When she received a call that her father was critically ill, Catherine resigned from her nursing career and moved to San Diego, California to help care for her father. After her father passed away she found herself unemployed and in need of support.

The Project Access Resource Center in San Diego was happy to help Catherine improve her job-seeking skills so that she could be competitive in the job market. Catherine worked with the onsite Resident Services Coordinator to build a new resume, sharpen her computer skills, and learn how to use a smart phone to search for jobs. After this training from Project Access, Catherine began sending her resume via email.

Within a month, Catherine was offered her top choice nursing position and felt a renewed sense of purpose in her life. She told Project Access "I believe everyone is put where they are supposed to be. I was put in this apartment so that you could help me and now I'll be working again to help others."

THANK YOU!

Project Access delivers resident services onsite at Family and Senior Resource centers located in housing communities. Providing services where people live enables Project Access staff to target the specific needs within the community and eliminates traditional barriers to services, such as transportation. The programs and services provided at the Resource Centers are critical for residents, allowing them to not only find and utilize available resources, but also access the support needed to become more self-sufficient.
