Yolanda is a bubbly, outgoing resident who until her visit to Project Access, hid it from the world. Diagnosed with multiple sclerosis, the medical condition affects her everyday life and has slowly caused her to isolate herself from others. That all changed when Yolanda attended a DIY craft night at Project Access.

The event introduced Yolanda to many of her neighbors. In forming these new connections, she felt integrated in the community. “I always know I’m welcome here.”

Yolanda has stayed engaged with her community by volunteering to be a part of a resident committee. She’s happy that she discovered an extension of home through Project Access.

“Our Shared Successes

- 2,288 healthy snacks, breakfasts, and lunches were distributed to combat hunger

- 95% of residents said that we helped them form stronger relationships with their neighbors
- 267 residents built their social capital through their participation in engagement events

Breaking Free from Isolation
