EMBRACING THE AGING PROCESS

Shirlena is a senior living at The Coronet. Prior to moving to this community, Shirlena led a very active lifestyle but was afraid that entering this new phase in life would change things.

Fortunately, Shirlena learned there was a Project Access where she lived that would not only keep her engaged, but happy as well. She participates in several programs including socials, supplemental food assistance, and health workshops.

Shirlena knows staying active in her community will maintain her health in the long run. This is why she encourages her neighbors to participate as well. Shirlena no longer fears the aging process but has chosen to embrace it with Project Access instead.
